PARTICIPATION IS THE BACKBONE OF ANY HEALTHY DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY.

We want to see a world where young people have decision-making power in all matters that shape their lives. We also believe that making good decisions means citizens have the critical thinking skills and know-how to evaluate and create content.

Like a pool of ideas around which bright minds gather to share information, experiences and best practices, the Resource Pool is an ever-evolving idea exchange that is meant to be the spark that ignites change.
